Libraries = Strong COMMUNITIES

FROM THE DIRECTOR'S SHELF

Donor Bequests Fund Main Library Renovations

If you haven't visited the Main Library in downtown Hendersonville in a while, you're in for a pleasant surprise!

Thanks to generous bequests by the Elizabeth Warrick and Joyce Rainear Slicer estates, the library recently completed a $206,000 interior renovation project. This project allowed for redesigned spaces built to improve patron service and fill community needs.

The reconfigured check-out area and staff workspace at the front of the library provides for a more efficient workflow that allows patrons to receive requested titles more quickly. Just past this area is a more defined space for teens to find titles of interest or just hang out with friends.

The back of the building includes the addition of two study rooms and a Learning Lab (pictured right). The library now has a total of 7 study rooms, each named after a significant author, for community members to use as a quiet space to study, meet with tutors, or work on projects.

The Learning Lab is a much larger space that boasts modular furniture and technology to allow for a variety of literacy activities, classes, and educational programs to take place.

We are incredibly grateful to these two women for their thoughtful donations that allowed us to create a more welcoming, usable space. We are humbled that their positive library experiences, and love for literature, resulted in a legacy that will serve the community for years to come.

- Trina Rushing, Library Director

We felt the love when patrons told us why they love their library.

Congratulations to Celeste Gulick, winner of the Kindle Fire drawing.

Patrons visited nine informational tables to discover the many services we provide.

Technology Librarian, Forrest Tate, gave patrons a sneak peek at the improved checkout experience made possible by our LSTA, RFID grant.

Vicki Huntley, Circulation Manager, gave patrons a behind the scenes tour that followed the life of a resource sharing item.

We're feeling the love!

Thanks to everyone who came to our 5th Annual "I Love My Library!" event.

Libraries=Strong COMMUNITIES

Celebrate
NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK
APRIL 7-13, 2019

We join libraries of all types in celebrating the many ways libraries build strong communities by providing critical resources, programs, and expertise.

April 7-13, 2019 is National Library Week, an annual celebration highlighting the valuable role libraries, librarians, and library workers play in transforming lives and communities. Libraries are at the heart of their cities, towns, schools, and campuses. They have public spaces where people of all backgrounds can come together and connect.

Library programs encourage community members to meet to discuss civic issues, work together using new technologies or learn alongside one another in English language classes. Library staff also partner with other civic and service organizations to actively engage with the people they serve, always striving to make sure their community's core needs are being met.

Henderson County Public Libraries help lead the community by hosting literacy programs for all ages, sparking children's imaginations with STEAM experiments, providing free internet access, leading technology and career sessions, and offering physical spaces for the community to gather.

“Libraries are cornerstones of democracy, promoting the free exchange of information and ideas for all. They also foster civic engagement by keeping people informed and aware of community events and issues.” - Trina Rushing, Director

To celebrate National Library Week and the work that libraries do to transform communities, all Henderson County Public Library locations will participate in the 4th annual Food for Fines program.

From Monday, April 8th —Saturday, April 13th, patrons can pay their existing overdue fines* with in-date, non-perishable food items. Each item will count as $1 toward the patron's account.

Donations will go to Interfaith Assistance Ministries to meet the basic needs of Henderson County families in financial crisis.

Last year patrons donated 1,836 items totaling 1,471 pounds!

*Sorry, food cannot be applied toward the cost of lost or damaged materials, debt collection fees, or account credit.

TOM FISCH presents a family friendly concert on April 11th at 6pm in the Kaplan Auditorium of the Main Library.

A talented singer, songwriter, and guitar player, Tom is a part of our mountain community who connects with his audience through his warm style and diverse repertoire.

FINANCIAL RESOURCES @ YOUR LIBRARY

Early spring is tax season and a time many of us start thinking of our finances. Concerns could include tax help, investment information, or how to get more out of a household budget. Luckily, the library has resources that can help.

Those in need of tax help will find a booklet of commonly used state and federal forms at the Service Desk. Patrons are free to make copies of these forms. Additionally, the most recent editions of J.K. Lasser's Your Income Tax are available in both the circulating and reference collections under the call number 336.2 J.

Folks wanting investment information can use two of the top online resources available: Valueline and Morningstar Investment Research Center. Both databases provide investment information about companies, stocks, and a variety of funds. Valueline is only available in the Main and branch libraries while Morningstar can be accessed at home through NC Live using your library card number.

In addition to electronic resources the library also has many print books available for browsing. Check out the following call numbers for financial topics: 332.024 for personal finances, 332.768 for investing, and 336.2 for taxes.

- Mark Burdette, Reference/Special Collections Librarian

What's Your Library Worth?

For fiscal year 2017-2018, Henderson County Public Libraries saved patrons $17,004,147.80*.

By providing free access to physical and digital materials, offering reference assistance, computer and wireless internet sessions, programming for all ages, and physical space for people to gather, your library saves you money and supports your community.

— $17,004,147.80 —

HAPPY READING!

In this column we feature books and authors with regional appeal to Western North Carolina and more broadly, with a strong sense of place in the Southeast. Place any of these on hold at the library through the NC Cardinal catalog.

For thrills and chills, a reclusive woman in a Blue Ridge Mountain stopover meets a foreigner in Ways to Hide in Winter. A new mystery series launches with The Widows by Jess Montgomery, featuring two women pursuing justice in the Appalachian coalfields. For readers of dark mysteries with rich settings like Greg Iles, John McMahon introduces a flawed cop, unable to make good decisions after a family tragedy, in another series debut called The Good Detective. For psychological suspense with strong family themes like Jodi Picoult or Diane Chamberlain, The Liar's Child by Carla Buckley presents a woman in the witness protection program, marooned on the Outer Banks as a hurricane approaches, forced to rescue two children with problems of their own.

In more mysteries, the Blue Ridge Library Mystery series continues with Past Due for Murder, and the Lighthouse Library mystery has a new installment called Something Read, Something Dead coming in March. For the horse crowd, the 11th book in a Rita Mae Brown series is out featuring human and animal characters set in Virginia hunt country with Homeward Hound.

There's a handful of promising titles in a spring crop of Southern historical fiction. Donna Everhart's Forgiving Kind describes a North Carolina farm family in the 1950s, the mother is forced to marry a wealthy but bigoted neighbor when 12-year old Sonny's father dies. A story about Charlotte in the 1960's by Anna Jean Mayhew, Tomorrow's Bread looks at a changing black neighborhood facing urban renewal, displacement, and shifting relationships in the community. In North Carolina author Rebecca Davis' Amidst this Fading Light a new family in town is the subject of a devastating crime in the Depression-era Piedmont.

For gentle reads about women's relationships, Low Country Hero is a clean romance set in Safe Haven, South Carolina about a woman fleeing her abuser and finding a new life. Lauren Denton has a book about 3 generations of women living in the same Alabama town called Glory Road. In a blend of romance and mystery, Ellen Crosby continues her Virginia Wine Country series with Harvest of Secrets.

For popular and literary picks, in a book about being born in the South but being treated like a foreigner in The Atlas of Reds and Blues, Devi Laskar writes in short vignettes from the perspective of an unnamed narrator, based on her own experience of a home invasion. In True Places by Sonja Yoerg, a woman driving on the Blue Ridge Parkway encounters a nearly feral girl and takes her in, and as it turns out they have a lot to learn from each other. For a book about counterculture in Western North Carolina, it's not clear at first what's going on in The Ash Family by Molly Dektar, when a girl joins an intentional community, trading identity for belonging.

Thanks for reading!

- Ed Graves, Branch & Collection Coordinator

NEW FOCUS FOR THE BAKER-BARBER COLLECTION

After five years, the Henderson County Public Library and Community Foundation of Henderson County has ceased their twice-monthly Baker-Barber Photograph Collection slideshows. The slideshow originally started in 2014 with the goal of seeking additional information on photographs in the Baker-Barber Collection. Participants viewed photos and related what they knew about the subjects. Documenting the collective memory of the local community meant preserving data about these images that was not otherwise available.

Henderson County is very fortunate to have a resource like the Baker-Barber Collection and with the end of the slideshows, library staff will change their attentions to cataloging and uploading the 8,000 images reviewed in the slideshows to the library's website. Even though the slideshows are ending, the library and the Community Foundation do intend to hold future slideshows as a way of promoting the collection.

This 1930's photo of an airliner at the old Asheville-Hendersonville airport is one of the images that will be cataloged and made available online. This and other images from the collection can be viewed at www.hendersoncountync.gov/library/page/baker-barber-collection

A VISIT WITH ANN B. ROSS

Tuesday, April 2nd @ 5:30pm
Main Library, Kaplan Aud.

Come celebrate the hometown debut of Miss Julia Takes the Wheel, the newest entry in the beloved Miss Julia series of bestselling books. Ann B. Ross will be at the library to introduce her novel, answer a question or two, and sign copies of her books. Copies of the book will be available for purchase from local bookstore Malaprop's. Come join us!

BLUE RIDGE RINGERS

SPRING CONCERT Friday, May 10th @ 2pm Main Library, Kaplan Aud.

For all those disappointed by the blizzard that canceled the Blue Ridge Ringers Handbell Ensemble's Christmas show, mark your calendars for their spring concert! Join us for a lively hour of pop and gospel songs played on multiple octaves of handbells. Free tickets available at the Main Library one hour before the concert. This program is sponsored by the Friends of the Library.

ART HAPPENINGS

Did you know the Main Library now features exhibits by local artists? We hope you will take the time to view them during your next library visit.

January-March 2019 KARLA CASTILLO

The library is currently exhibiting the art of photographer Karla Castillo. Nature, people, and landmarks are the foundation of Karla's Captures. The purpose of this exhibition is to inspire you to travel the world, explore its incredible diversity, and to allow the journey to change you.

April-June 2019 MARK CROSSLEY

In April we will be exhibiting the metal art of Mark Crossley, whose latest works were featured at the Asheville Regional Airport in the winter of 2018. His work makes use of copper, aluminum, and glass with many pieces inspired by botanical flora.

We have an open, ongoing call for artists to exhibit at the Library's main branch. To find out more about exhibiting your artwork, please call the Library at 828.697.4725.*

2019 SUMMER FUN PREVIEW

Join us this summer as we explore a Universe of Stories!

At the Main Library during the month of May we will count down to summer with a series of space themed 4 O'Clock Clubs for grades K-5 each Wednesday. Starting on June 3rd, all ages can pick up a reading log to complete for a chance to win prizes. Watch for weekly programs at all branches for children, teens, and adults.
